

Product Features

The VC-BB has the special protective feature made of ABS material to house the volume control unit. It is designed to protect and ensure the core volume control is in stable and working condition all the time. Easy to use and install, this unit is flexible as it can fit most of the volume control's sizes available in the market today. Two or more of these units can be joined together to ensure a neat, fitting and tidy installation. Available in grey colour.
